The 12th Asian American Festival Live Performance Program
(Tentative version on August 10, 2022)

Member: Stephanie Pan
On July 22, after screening and discussion by the organizing committee and the director group, 33 programs were initially selected for the stage performance of the Asian American Festival. Most of the performers are not only from professional performance groups and art schools, but also from Boston Chinese, Japanese, Korean, Spanish, Italian, Native American and other ethnic groups and age groups, fully demonstrating this year’s Asian American Festival “diversity” characteristic concept.

In addition, with the launch of the preliminary investment promotion work, merchants in Boston and New York have contacted us one after another, and the negotiation and follow-up work are in progress in an orderly manner. So far, the first batch of sponsor fund from partners has been delivered.

Finally, this year’s Asian American Festival also invited a number of Asian-American associations in Massachusetts and Boston, politicians from the municipal government, and diplomatic envoys from various countries in the future, we will also invite more groups and individuals, looking forward to more people to celebrate this event with us.

On the afternoon of July 11th, Ms. Yaling Qin, President of the America Asia Economic Alliance in Las Vegas, visited Boston at the invitation of the Boston Asia American Friendship Association. Yunlong Zhen, Chairman of the Asian American Friendship Association, and Cao Pinci, the Co-Executive President, went to the airport to greet her in person.

At about 6:30 p.m., Fei Pan, executive chairman of the Asian American Friendship Association, Tianqi Wang, Hao Wu, Siliang Song, etc., also attended the welcome dinner held in Boston's Chinatown, and warmly welcomed the visiting chairman Yaling Qin. Previously, after two months of communication and discussions, the Boston Asia-American Association and the America-Asia Alliance reached a strategic cooperation intention, and President Yaling Qin's visit represented the official start of the cooperation talks between the two parties.

On the afternoon of July 12, the cooperation talks between the two parties were officially held in the Asia-American Life Salon. President Fei Pan first gave a detailed introduction to the organization structure and past activities of the Asia-American Association. When talking about the community service of the Asian American Association and the Boston Asian American Festival, President Qin gave full praise, she said: "At present, Las Vegas also has a large-scale Chinese community, and also has a large number of jobs and various industries. Chinese and Asian elites in the industry, the community also attaches great importance to the 'Asia Pacific Culture Month', but now we do not have our own statutory festival. Since the beginning of this year, the America-Asia Alliance has also successfully held a series of cultural and public welfare activities. In the future, the two sides can work together to make the Asian American Festival a diversified and multi-structured federal statutory holiday."

 Afterwards, President Yaling Qin also introduced the organization of the America-Asia Alliance, community service activities, etc., and expressed his willingness to provide assistance to the development of the Asian-American Association in the western region of the United States, and to help the Asian-American Association to establish friendship with the local Chinese communities in the United States and Western America. Chairman Yunlong Zhen fully affirmed the community contribution of the Meiya Alliance, and thanked President Yaling Qin for his help. Afterwards, Chairman Yunlong Zhen presented President Yaling Qin with his calligraphy work "Linjiangxian: The Rolling Waters of the Yangtze River", and an "Asian American Yearbook". The two sides have reached a number of cooperation consensus in the joint holding of the Asia-American Festival in the two places, as well as the follow-up cultural cooperation and business cooperation.

At the meeting, after listening to the discussion between the two parties, the members of the board of directors of the Asian American Association voted to approve the resolution to grant President Yaling Qin the "Asian American Association's Western Cultural and Business Ambassador". Subsequently, Yunlong Zhen, chairman of the Asian American Association, signed the letter of appointment, which is also the first time in the history of the Asian American Association that the title of "Cultural and Commercial Ambassador" has been awarded to the outside world. President Yaling Qin said that the cooperation between the Asia-American Association and the America-Asia Alliance will surely become a milestone in the friendly relationship between the two Asian-American communities.
